HOW MUCH MONEY?

Those unthinking or unscrupulous persons who advocate a free issue of shinplasters twice a year repeat the assertion that there is not enough money in the country, and that as we cannot coin gold or silver we must print paper dollars. In a retrospect published last week we shewed that, while population has risen only 22 per cent since 1882, paper money has increased 620 per cent. This ought to be sufficient to convince Pres. Pellegrini and Congress that what we are suffering from is not a deficiency of currency but rather a superabundance.

What is the amount of money requisite for the population and trade of the country? Let us first consider as to population, and adopt the official figures of Mr. Latzina, which shew that the Argentine Republic counts at present nearly 4,000,000 souls. The report of Mr. Leech, director of the Mint at Washington, shews that the total amount of gold, silver and paper money in use in various countries in 1890 was as follows:—

	Millions $	$ per inhab.
U. States	1,634	26
U. Kingdom	714	18
France	1,696	44
Germany	895	19
Russia	750	8
Austria	390	10
Italy	411	14
Spain	349	18
Portugal	56	13
Scandinavia	69	7
Holland	130	28
Belgium	174	29
Switzerland	44	14
Turkey	95	17
Europe	7,377	20

As regards the Argentine Republic the official statement shews 280 million dollars paper, and to this may be added 5 millions in specie, which gives an average of more than 70 dollars per head. In other words we have 3 times as much currency as the country needs, and hence it is no wonder that paper-dollars as compared with gold are 3½ to one. If we had the same number of dollars in circulation as in the U. States, that is 26 per inhabitant, our currency would be about 100 millions.

It is impossible at the present moment to burn two-thirds of our paper-money, so as to bring down our issue to what it ought to be, but it cannot fail to be clear to everybody that the depreciation of the paper-dollar is due to the fact that we have three times as much of this currency as is requisite. When President Roca retired from office, in October 1886, the paper currency amounted to 70 millions, which at the current rate of exchange was worth £13,000,000 sterling. At present we have 280 millions, worth £15,000,000. The fact is that with a population of 4,000,000 we cannot digest a larger amount of currency than about 16 millions sterling or 80 million dollars, and though the Government or Congress may increase the issue of shin-plasters the commercial value will never in the aggregate exceed the above amount.

Let us suppose, however, that the Republic could digest a sum equivalent to 100 million gold dollars the value of the paper-dollar would then be, compared with the amount of shin-plasters in circulation, as follows:—

Issue. millions currency.	Value of dollar pence.
300	16
400	12
480	10

It is useless to repeat the old phrase, that this is an exceptional country. So long as the dollar is inconvertible it must decline with each fresh issue, in more or less exact ratio to the sum of real money required, say 80 or 100 million hard dollars.

But it will be said by the advocates of unlimited paper issues that we should rather compare the amount of money with the volume of trade yearly, than with population. The following table shows the annual aggregate of imports and exports, and the amount of money in each country for $100 of trade:—

	Millions $	Currency per $100 trade
U. States	1,600	102
U. Kingdom	3,100	23
France	1,700	100
Germany	1,720	53
Russia	640	117
Austria	710	55
Italy	430	83
Spain and P.	310	120
Holland	260	50
Belgium	230	74

The above shews that the amount of money in use varies from 23 to 120$ per 100$ of trade. Now, if we reduce to their values in gold the imports and exports of the Republic in 1890, we find that the total was £19,500,000, or nearly 100 million hard dollars. This fully confirms the theory we have already laid down, as the Argentine public cannot digest a larger amount of money than (at the utmost) 100 million dollars. No matter what the nominal amount of currency its aggregate value cannot, for some years, exceed 20 millions sterling. We do not want more shinplasters, but rather an annual reduction of 5 or 10 per cent of the present issue until we come down to the level of what we had when Pres. Roca retired from office, which was 70 millions of paper-money and about 20 millions dollars in gold. Since then there has been no remarkable increase of trade or population to warrant the increase of our paper-money by 300 per cent. Any further issues in our present circumstances will prove the reverse of beneficial

THE CHILIAN REVOLUTION.

Since the battle of Pozo Almonte, where the Government troops were cut to pieces on the 7th of March, the civil war on the West Coast has entered a stage of passive resistance in which the belligerents are concentrating forces for another perhaps decisive encounter in the neighborhood of Copiapo or Coquimbo. All the particulars we published last month of the fighting in Tarapaca have been confirmed, but the following fresh particulars of the encounter at Pozo Almonte will be read with interest: we quote from our well-informed colleague The Chilian Times:—

"The sailors from the fleet did terrific execution with their Gatlings, and it is said that a Line company which was caught in a trap by a squad of sailors with Gatlings was annihilated in a minute. Every man and officer was stretched on the ground, they who were not killed outright being wounded.

"Numerous acts of unspeakable ferocity are reported, and there appears to be no doubt that many of them are only too true. It is said that the martyrdom of Col. Robles is excused on the ground that he ordered Opposition officers, whom he made prisoners at Hospicio, to be shot.

"The body of Col. Robles was embalmed by Dr. Middleton, and was taken on board the Isis for conveyance to Valparaiso, but by order of the Commander of the Fleet, it was subsequently disembarked from that vessel and taken on board the Blanco. A later report says the remains of the unfortunate officer were buried with all honours.

"The defeat of Robles is attributed to several causes. To change of position; inferiority of numbers; and to want of cavalry.

"It is said that Gana escaped with a few hundred men, but the direction he has taken does not appear to be positively known. It is believed that Arrate with a few men has also taken the same direction as Gana.

"Out of a total of combatants computed at close upon 4,000 at Pozo Almonte, it is estimated that the Government forces had 350 killed and 600 wounded; the loss of the Opposition being estimated at 250 killed and 350 wounded; the greater loss of the former being attributed to the Gatlings used by the latter."

The transport Imperial narrowly escaped being captured on her last voyage north by the cruiser Esmeralda. It appears that the transport arrived at Antofagasta in the night, and her commander believing the port to be free of vessels of the navy entered, and let go anchor—at least, so it is reported. About 3 a.m. it was discovered that she was lying within two cables' length of the Esmeralda, and no time was lost in getting out to sea. By this time the Esmeralda became aware of the presence of the Imperial, and she gave chase. The pursuit was kept up for sixteen hours, and the excitement was considerably intensified from the fact that the Esmeralda sent an occasional shot after the Imperial; fortunately, however, none of the projectiles struck her, and she escaped being sent to the bottom of the sea. After the Esmeralda gave up the chase, the Imperial continued south and finally entered Huasco, from whence she was ordered to Coquimbo, where she discharged her living and dead freight, and then sailed for Valparaiso. It is supposed, however, that the Imperial has since fallen into the hands of the revolutionists.

It is said that the Government troops are being withdrawn from Tarapaca and Atacama, and that they will be concentrated in Coquimbo. This report may very well be true, because it is easy to comprehend that, after the terrible experience of Iquique, the Government will not care to expose the coast towns to destruction by the fleet, and the interior towns in the desert are not likely to be molested, and, therefore, they can be left to take care of themselves. Another report is that the Fleet will shortly visit Valparaiso, but it is not generally credited.

With respect to the Iquique conflagration, Col. Soto, in his official report, copies from the revolutionary paper La Aurora an article of which the following is a translation:—"About half-past two in the afternoon, the Dictator's villains finding themselves lost, and all of them, from Col. Soto to the last soldier, being drunk, set fire to the Hotel de la Bolsa of which they had taken possession. The building was set on fire with petroleum, and the flames quickly spread to the adjoining buildings. The block situated between the Custom House square, Anibal Pinto, San Martin and Pedro Lagos streets was quickly consumed, and the flames were carried along by the wind and three more blocks were destroyed. According to the estimates of impartial persons, the loss amounts to one million dollars. Nevertheless, some persons estimate the loss to be much greater."

Col. Soto says three blocks only were consumed, and that they contained but two large stores. The rest of the buildings were occupied by offices, grogshops and two hotels, the Bolsa and the Cosmopolitan. A warehouse near to the Mole containing 3000 quintals of nitrate, valued at 7,000 dollars, was also destroyed. This fire and the other Colonel Soto alleges were caused by shells from the Fleet, and he repudiates the charge of drunkenness made against himself and his men. "I may," he says, "have many vices, but a love of liquor is not one of them."

Latest accounts from the seat of war under date Iquique 3rd inst. announce that the division of Government troops under General Camus, 2000 strong, crossed the Bolivian frontier to avoid pursuit. The Bolivian Government had no difficulty in disarming the men. The provinces of Tarapaca and Antofagasta are now completely in the hands of the revolutionists. This news is confirmed from Iquique and Paris. It is apprehended in Santiago that the majority of the men under Camus will now join the revolutionists—this would be a "coup de grace" to Balmaceda in the north of Chile.

Camus's troops were qaartered at Calama; to escape the overpowering forces of the revolutionists they crossed the frontier. There are still Government forces at Arica and Tacna; but these must choose between disarmament in Bolivia or defeat at the hands of the overpowering numbers of the rebel troops.

It turns out that the Government troops, not the fleet, set fire to Iquique. With regard to the mutilation of Col. Robles's body, the report is denied; all the wounds on his body were inflicted by shot.

Dictator Balmaceda on the 25th ult., gave orders to arrest Mrs. Edwards, the wife of the millionaire banker whose munificent charity is a household word in America. This lady was put in prison and treated without any regard for her sex or station.

The commander of the British squadron on the West Coast has stated that the Chilian revolutionary fleet could raze the Valparaiso fortifications in half an hour's bombardment.

GREAT EXHIBITION OF 1893.

On Wednesday last Dr. D. N. Bertolette U. S. N., special commissioner from the United States to the Argentine Republic, the Republic of Uruguay and the Republic of Paraguay, was formally presented to the President of the Argentine Republic, at the Government House, by Mr. G. W. Fishback, Secretary of the United States Legation, acting for the Honorable John G. R. Pitkin, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to the Argentine Republic.

Dr. Bertolette has been appointed a special commissioner to these countries, on behalf of the World's Columbian Commission, to invite their Governments to take part in the celebration of the fourth centennial anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. The celebration will be in the form of an immense Exhibition of Arts, Trades and Manufactures, to be held at Chicago, in the State of Illinois, from the first day of May, 1893, until the thirtieth day of October, 1893, the dedication of the grounds and buildings taking place, with appropriate ceremonies, on the twelfth of October, 1892.

During the visit the subject of the Exhibition, and the part which the Argentine Republic would take, in it was discussed, and in reply to the request of Dr. Bertolette, on the part of the United States, that this country would send commissioners with exhibits to represent it at the celebration, President Pellegrini expressed the opinion that such commissioners would be appointed, and throughout the interview manifested great personal interest in the subject. At the conclusion of the call upon the President, Dr. Bertolette paid his official respects to other members of the Cabinet and received from all of them encouraging assurances of cooperation on the part of this Government.

Dr. Bertolette will remain here as an attache of the United States Legation for the next twelve or fourteen months in order to give every possible assistance to the commissioners and others interested in the collection and preparation of the Argentine exhibit, which it is expected will compare most favorably with that of the other leading nations of the world.

THE DRAMATIC PERFORMANCE.

Ascertaining that Miss Rose Murray, an actress well known on the English boards, was staying on a short visit in this city, Professor Martin, with his characteristic energy, enlisted the lady's services on behalf of the three representative British Charities of Buenos Ayres, the British Hospital, the Irish Orphanage and the British and American Benevolent Society. In order to ensure the greatest possible eclat, Professor Martin induced some of our best amateurs to assist him in his charitable enterprise, which was brought to a head on Saturday last at the Opera House.

The first item on the programme was Marsham Rae's well known duologue "A Fair Encounter," and, immediately upon the rising of the curtain it was seen that no pains had been spared to ensure completeness, for the scene, a boudoir, was furnished in most elegant and costly fashion, and in a manner that could hardly be excelled in Europe. The furniture and fittings of this scene had been kindly lent by the Exposicion Inglesa of 634 Calle Cuyo. Miss Murray, as Mrs. Granville, the madcap little lady who disguises herself as a lady's maid in order to test the character of her brother's fiancee, instantaneously made her mark on the audience by her piquante and lively acting in a fascinating character; she was ably assisted by Mrs. Julia Barnes, a lady who on this occasion made her first appearance on the stage; in spite of want of experience, Mrs. Barnes' natural abilities pulled her through triumphantly, and it was difficult to credit that she was making her debut. Honours were in fact, fairly divided.

The piece de resistance was Planche's "Follies of a Night," adapted from Scribe. It was by some considered somewhat bold that the gallant little band should have undertaken a "costume" play, but their ultimate success justified the experiment. In other respects, the play albeit of a somewhat stilted and artificial nature, is not unsuited to amateurs. Our space will not allow us to give the argument of the comedy, and we must content ourselves with briefly chronicling the salient points of the acting. Miss Murray, as the Duchesse de Chartres, strongly contradistinguishes the role from that of the "fin de siecle" (19th) Mrs. Granville, and represented the different phases of the character in apposite and happy manner, whether depicting the terror of the grande dame when facedby her husband in masquerade attire (a terror, by the way, not unmixed with a sly enjoyment of the escapade) or her calm and ingenious method of placing her peccant husband in the wrong, Miss Murray was always 'en scene.' In a word, she achieved a well-deserved triumph. Mrs. Barnes had a comparatively unimportant part as Mdlle Duval, but what little she was called upon to do was well carried out.

Turning to the gentlemen, we have first to compliment Professor Martin on his admirable impersonation of Pierre Palliot; the doyen of the Buenos Ayres amateur stage was in his best form, and never allowed the piece to flag when he occupied the stage; his part was not an important one, and yet it evidently occupied a foremost place in the estimation of the audience. Mr. F. Rider Hancock was careful and conscientious in the long, disagreeable and excessively difficult character of Dr. Druggendraft, a character which, had it been inadequately sustained, would have lowered the piece altogether. Last, but not least, we must give a good word to Mr. E. Peake who conclusively proved that the reputation acquired by him some years since as a skilled elocutionist had been well earned and equally well sustained. And finally, the costumes and scenery were everything that could be desired, and the audience retired thoroughly well satisfied with the fare on which they had been regaled.

The orchestra, under the direction of Maestro Furlotti, played some of the choicest items of an excellent repertoire, and served to fill up some of the most appreciated moments of the evening.

THE FAILURE OF HERR MULLER'S SCHEME.

DR. ALSINA TO THE RESCUE.

Strong as was our desire to keep our countrypeople together, the power of circumstances was too much for us, and it is now finally resolved that the Naposta men are to be again handed over to the tender mercies of the National Immigration Department, to be thus distributed in larger or smaller batches (as the labour market may demand) throughout the length and breadth of the Republic. Perhaps so best; for, as Mr. Pilling stated publicly last year in the Literary Society's debates, the history of our countrymen in this fair land since the days of the Scotch colony at Santa Catalina, A.D. 1826, down even to the present day, goes to prove that our countrymen thrive far better individually than collectively. Why this should be so is difficult to explain in face of the very splendid results achieved by other nationalities, not only in the Italian colonies of Santa Fe, but likewise the several European settlements throughout this province. Take the Danes at Tandil, the Russians at Olavarria, or the French at Pique—even the Bascos at Naposta hold their own on the same ground and under the same reverses that have broken the spirits of their no less hardy nor determined English and Irish neighbours. Still I had fondly hoped to preserve amongst them the religion and the language of our forefathers, thus rendering the aliens' lot less hard, whilst steadily building up British commerce so sadly on the decline here of late years. In furtherance of this idea I insisted on all the agricultural machinery, iron and wood for houses, &c. &c., being bought from our English merchants, nor can the Great Southern Railway have received much less than 30,000 to 40,000 m/l for freights during the two years the poor "Dresdeners" have been established on the lands of the Viticola Company.

The fertile lands of Peluajo seemed well suited for a last effort in the great cause of British colonisation, and had we been able to conclude arrangements satisfactorily with Herr Muller the removal of the large iron buildings (Irish chapel and Protestant church) from Naposta would have been an easy matter. Mr. John Purcell might likewise have continued as schoolmaster. All these plans are now at an end, Dr. Alsina, Chief Commissioner of Immigration, having come forward to claim the settlers for Government colonies, precisely as Father Constantine argued last week at the Committee meeting of the Beneficent Society. They are to be kept at the "Hotel" for a few days, exactly as though they were so many new arrivals, and all that Mr. Purcell could procure was a promise that family ties are to be respected. Children will not be separated from their parents without their consent and free-will.

The same conditions hold good for the thirteen families established at Rocha, and whose crops likewise failed as reported last week. Last year they left Naposta under fair promises, and they now claim the same protection from the British Consul as their former companions. It is but fair to Mr. Gartland and his partners to say that, rather than separate parents from their children, he offered to keep the families (whose daughters were employed at Bahia Blanca) on the same terms as last year.

Mr. Ansell started on Saturday night, with 300 free passes on the Great Southern Railway. The Benevolent Society provided him with money to buy food for the people on the journey up: 19 hours per train. The first batch should have arrived yesterday, the second this morning. The Government official takes charge of them at the Plaza Constitucion for their immediate conveyance to the Hotel. No contribution of money will therefore be required for their maintenance, but charitable families of all nationalities and denominations are requested to send in cast-off clothing to the offices of the B. and A. Benevolent Society, calle Reconquista No. 365, whose kind hands and warm hearts are not wanting to see to the prompt and careful distribution of same.

Let us hope that in their new homes, wherever they be, our people may find more good fortune than has hitherto been their lot; for patience and perseverance will assuredly triumph in the long run.

RACING.

A bright day and an alluring programme conduced to attract an attendance far above the average to Palermo on Sunday last. Truth to say, however, the sport was not as interesting as was expected, for with the exception of the Premios Porteño and Urano, the races were of the most one-sided description, and necessitate no comment on our part.

The race of the day, the Premio Porteño, brought out a good field, Vendetta starting favourite from the Ecuric Titan pair, with Asteroide also much fancied. The chance of the second favorite was much prejudiced when Titan early in the fray broke a blood vessel, and was thus unable to make running for Gladiador II; the rider of the latter instead of altering his tactics, as he should have done when he saw his stable companion disabled, laid off too long, and, although he made up a lot of ground in the run-in, and finished strongly and well, his effort only enabled him to obtain the barren honours of a situation. If Gladiador II waited too long, directly opposite tactics spoilt Vendetta's chance, as she was for the greater part of the race the immediate attendant of the light-weight, Phœnix. Finance, who was quietly fancied by his connections, came very late, and, had he made his effort 50 metres earlier, he would certainly have been returned the winner. It will thus be seen that Asteroide's victory was obtained under somewhat lucky circumstances, and it may be safely asserted that it was attributable to the chapter of accidents aided by the calm and resolute jockeyship of his rider, for the son of Retreat did not appear to be in his best bloom, and seemed to the eye slightly devoid of muscle. Others that ran well were San Carlos, Phœnix and Simpleton.

La Florida and Tesoro ran right away from the remainder of the field in the Premio Urano, a long, arduous and intensely interesting struggle resulting in the bare victory of the President's filly, although it was generally thought that the judges should not have separated the two.

HURLINGHAM.

We are sorry to be obliged to chronicle that the attendance at Hurlingham on Sunday was very spare; there was, however, nothing to complain of as regards the sport which was copious quantity and excellent in quality. One noticeable feature was the success of the Argentine riders who may fairly be said to have reaped the laurels of the day. Outsiders turned up trumps time after time, and there is evidently more scope for and excitement in gambling on pony races than on the regular Turf. El Nene, at a difference of 6 kilos only, walked away from Diablo in the open race! We are under the impression that these two animals would be handicapped at Palermo or Belgrano at something like 16 kilos, and that good odds would be laid on the top-weight.

We venture to think that at the next meeting at Hurlingham, which, by the by, will not be held on a Sunday, the Committee will not have any reason to complain of lack of patronage, for Sunday's sport was so good that, despite the small attendance, it is bound to increase the popularity of the Club.

a las 11 de la mañana.
Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado por orden y cuenta de la "Sociedad Colonizadora Argentina" las tierras de la Colonia arriba mencionada que se componen de mil chacras de 25 hectareas cada una veinte quintas de 3 hectareas cada una, ciento cincuenta solares en el pueblo de 800 metros cuadrados cada uno.
Las tierras que ofrecemos en venta de esta Colonia son de las mejores de la Provincia por su inmejorable posicion como por la fertilidad de las mismas.
La Colonia "Ceres" esta convenientemente dividida en pueblo con sus solares, quintas y chacras, terreno muy alto y llano y esta cubierto en su mayor parte de pastos fuertes con algunos islotes de bosques cuyas maderas son quebracho, ñandubay, algarrobo, etc. etc. La capa de tierra vejetal es de noventa centimetros de espesor, enconcontrandose agua potable excelente a tres metros de profundidad, Su excelente situacion es de enorme ventaja pecuniaria; para los agricultores pues queda sobre el gran Ferro Carril de Buenos Aires al Rosario, prolongacion de Sanchales a Tucuman, y tiene su Estacion propia del mismo nombre (Ceres) en el centro de la colonia la cual solo dista nueve horas del gran puerto del Rosario, lo que facilita y abarata el transporte y flete de sus productos.
Llamamos preferentemente la atencion sobre esta venta de los agricultores e inmigrantes que deseosos de labrarse un porvenir seguro y de resultados efectivos buscan en que colocar sus pequeños capitales para que ayudados por su trabajo personal les de una ganancia suficiente para el sosten de los suyos y al mismo tiempo una pequeña utilidad para ahorro, base y cimiento a una fortuna que se va agrandando y consolidando con los años; pues es sabido que en nuestro pais las principales fortunas tienen por origen la ganaderia y agricultura.
Tenemos que hacerle presente que la colonia "Ceres" cuenta ya con un nucleo de mas de quinientos pobladores que es un aliciente mas para los nuevos agricultores al mismo tiempo de ser una gran ventaja, pues no carecen de este modo de los artículos de primera necesidad ni estan espuestos a las penurias de un campo fronterizo a poblar.
Por ultimo, y sobre este punto llamamos la especial atencion de las personas que deseen adquirir tierras de la mencionada colonia y las cuales carecen de capital suficientes para ello; pues con una insignificancia pueden hacerse propietarios de las mejores tierras de la Provincia de Santa Fe, llamada con sobrada razon "La Region del Trigo" en vista de las condiciones excepcionales y grandes facilidades para el pago.
La venta se efectuara sin base alguna en lotes a gusto de los compradores, los cuales al firmar el boleto pagaran la tercera parte del importe total de sus compras al contado, abonando el resto en plazo de tres años por anualidades con el 7 o/o de interes anual firmando pagare. Los que paguen al contado gozaran de una rebaja de 9 o/o. Creemos que rara vez se les presenta oportunidad igual para la adquisicion de tierras de tal magnitud, lo cual no deben perder de vista.

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no quiero darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea; saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastimduras sanan facilmente, y se ha en cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.
